PHOENIX, May 24, 2017 /PRNewswire/ -- Troxell, a national leader in educational technology solutions for more than 60 years, is proud to announce the company has been selected as one of the vendors awarded a REMC SAVE Contract. The evaluation criteria of all submitted bids included consideration on the basis of cost, quality, specifications and Bidder service and support. All bids were reviewed for compliance with the mandatory requirements stated within this Invitation to Bid (ITB).

Contract Item Number 2217019 runs from April 19, 2017 to September 30, 2017. The Model number is C202SAYS02 for the ASUS C202, 11" Chromebook. A contract was awarded to Troxell for demonstrating Best Value, which is defined as a combination of the best technical evaluation and the lowest price when determining award recommendation.

"We are pleased to be awarded a REMC SAVE Contract," said Mike Ruprich, CEO at Troxell. "This contract provides Michigan school districts an affordable price for the ASUS C202, 11" Chromebook for their 1:1 school district initiatives when purchased through Troxell."

Troxell continues to participate in multiple national, regional, state and local contracts, helping educational institutions pay less for products and reduce administrative costs in order to overcome the challenges of tight and diminishing budgets.
